

Print Management

HOW

much of your output is left uncollected around your MFPs, wasting paper and money and potentially exposing your sensitive business information to the wrong people?

CONSIDER... the average office employee prints 10,000 pages per year.¹

Just 25% of unclaimed output (wasted pages) could have a significant impact.

That's 40 prints each workday, per employee!²

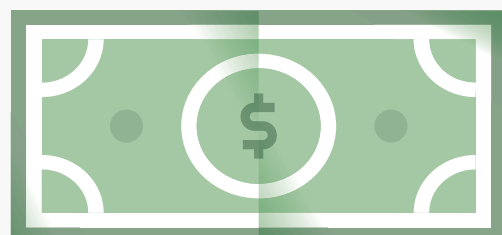

Uncollected print jobs not only can lead to lost money in the form of wasted paper, printer toner, and electricity, but also have the potential of exposing your sensitive business information.
